Bird Feeding Tips

Feed your birds year-round: Studies show birds are losing naturally occurring food sources, and will benefit from you feeding them all year long.

Location: At first, select a feeder location near a brush pile or shrubs to provide birds with a safer location (from predators) and a more natural feeding setting. Once birds have started feeding at your feeder, you can gradually move it to a desired viewing location. Remember to have some type of cover nearby for birds to hide from predators.

Hanging Your Feeder: Simply use a hanging hook-Stokes Model #38028 or deck hook Model #38074. Make sure whatever you hook your feeder to is strong to support the filled weight of the feeder.

Storing seed: Keep seed in a dry, steel container that has a locking lid (to keep critters out).

Keeping Squirrels Away: Squirrels are attracted to most types of bird seed. Block them from your feeders by using a Bird Feeder Pole set (Stokes Model #38128) and Squirrel Baffle (Stokes Model #38023). Or you can put out food for them that is easier to get to, rather than robbing your bird feeders.
